To the Class of 2005:

Our years at Emerson were marked by momentous historic occasions, periods of grief and tragedy, the challenge of change, and unfathomable triumph. This year's yearbook allows us the opportunity to reflect on these events "Frame by Frame," thanks to the hard work and dedication of this year's editorial staff.

On the second day of classes, of our first year at Emerson we were faced with a devastating event, September 11th, 2001 and the terrorist act which destroyed the World Trade Center. Sharing in the resulting trials and traumas we quickly bonded us as class and reshaped the environment in which we would spend the next four years and the rest of our lives.

It is amazing how far we have come. As we all go our separate ways and pursue our individual goals, we have strung together some phrases and images which framed the years we spent together at Emerson.

Do you remember....? Midnight Breakfasts, South Street Diner, film shoots, Potato Pile-ups, roommates, 126-130 Beacon Street, the Hyena scandal, fire drills, Bennigan's, OL 4 Life, Dragtoberfest, Spring Break, Shangri La, Middle East, protests, Hemp fest, Harry Potter, the New Student Revue, the Org. Fair, elevator etiquette, no more smoking in front of the LB, NYP, Pravda, the gas leak, space issues, faculty negotiations, the 2004 election, waffles in the DH, the LB ceilings, the LB mailroom, Gilbert theWeatherman, the Campus on the Common, Zero Marlboro, the C-Store, Allston, 7-11, the Castle, LA, the lights in the PPC, the hole in the ground, the EVVYs, the Double Tree, The Vault, Casino Night, 8am classes, 4 hour classes, Hand Me Down Night, 80's Night, the Night Owl, Montreal, Brimmer...burning, Equity Fights AIDS Week, blizzards, classes in the Arlington Street Church and Boston Ballet, our special guests:Whoopi Goldberg, Danny Glover, Henry Rollins and Henry Winkler, soccer parties, getting locked out of your room and noise violations, Flynn's, the Tam, 420 Boylston Street, the Red Sox winning the World Series, all of the Patriot's Super Bowl wins, athletic events, Senior Send-Off, Senior Week, Commencement.....

Our class is an eclectic, passionate, dedicated, and creative group and is most definitely the hottest class alive. We know that you will all be successful in whatever you do. We wish you all the luck in the world and in memory of our Orientation hope you remember to "Break on through to the Other Side."

Thanks for all the memories!

Your class officers,

Kristen, Elena, Will, Liz, Melissa, Hadley, and Maureen

Frame by Frame:

Bringing Innovation to Communication and the Arts

Students who choose Emerson College for their undergraduate degree know what they want to do with their lives. Most of the students at Emerson have known what they wanted their career to be since they were little kids. Whether they want to be actors, producers, writers, broadcast journalists, or speech pathologists -- they all choose to "bring innovation to communication and the arts."

Student Life

Just hangin' out and playin' around.

Residence Life

Emerson College has five residence halls: The Little Building (80 Boylston,) 6 Arlington, 100 Beacon, 132 Beacon, and of course, The Doubletree Hotel. Some students only live on-campus their first year and some live there all four. The Little Building is the largest hall and also includes the dining hall and various departments of the school. A new residence is under construction on Boylston Street in order to move the "west-siders" closer to the Theatre District.

THE 2004-2005 RESIDENCE LIFE STAFF: RD's: AnnMarie Caprio; Jana Jacobson; Wynter Lavier; Dan McAvey; John Standard; RA's: Amitha Amranand; Ian Barbella; Lyndsay Barrett; Sara Barton; Shellie Beeker; Katie Caponera; Natasha Castro; Daniel Coffey; Katharine Cotugno; Sydney Covert; Emily Garr; AJ Goodman; Jeb Heil; Anthony Holdorf; Justin Isbell; Taylor Jenkins; Christian Johnsen; Laura Johnsen; Kendra Kelley; Kester Krueger; Aaron McLane; Andrew McPherson; Ashley Phillips; Jessica Reynoso; Michaela Romano-Meade; Iris St. Meran; Shirmeika Saunders; Steven Scott; Marissa Sertich; Raajik Shah; Drea Swain; Kaitlyn Wante; Timothy Whitney; Pearl Wible; Elliot Wish

The West Side

A lot of people who have lived here prefer the west side of campus because the buildings are so much different from the Little Building. With more private bathrooms, windows that open wide, and random things like old fireplaces in the rooms, it's easier to feel more at home in 6 Arlington, 100 Beacon, or 132 Beacon. Students have to enjoy it while it lasts though, because soon Emerson won't even own those buildings!

What the RAs have to say:

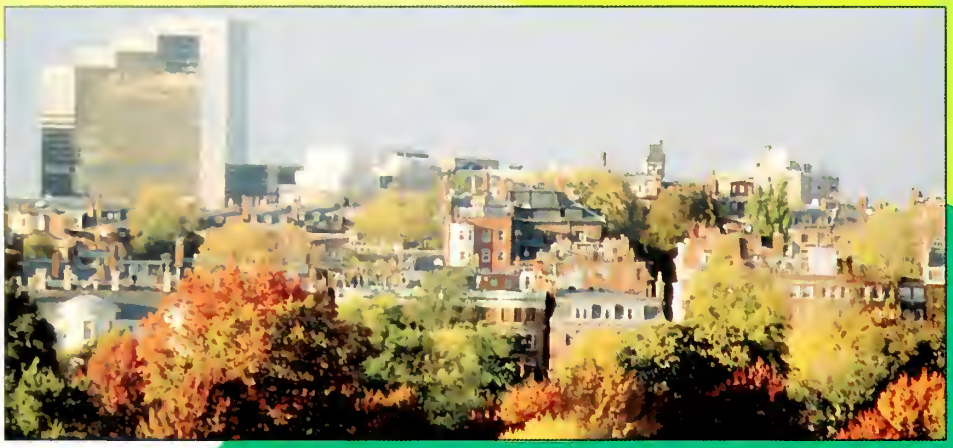
(Left) Senior RA Kester Kreuger says that becoming an RA seemed natural for him. He wanted to help maintain the quality community of the 12th floor in the LB.

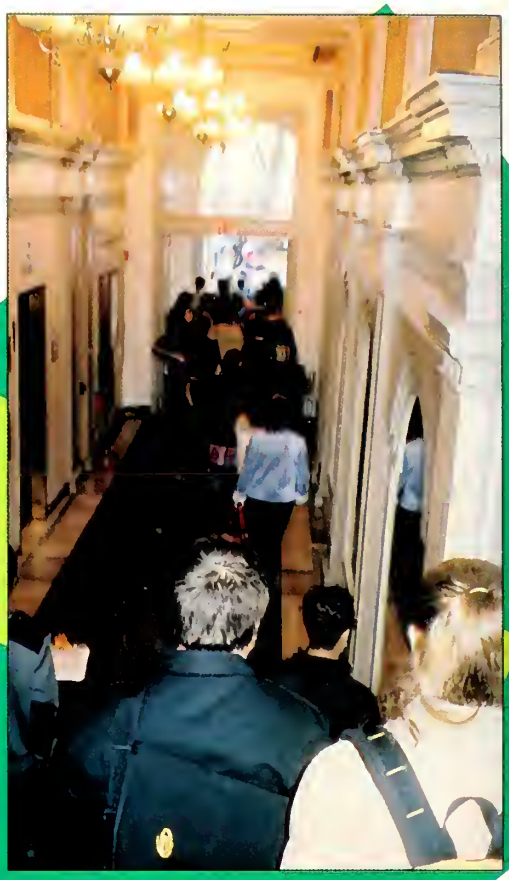
(Below) Kate Wante is a senior RA of the Writer's Block on floor 10 of 100 Beacon. She says she has always loved living on campus, and wants to help others feel the same.

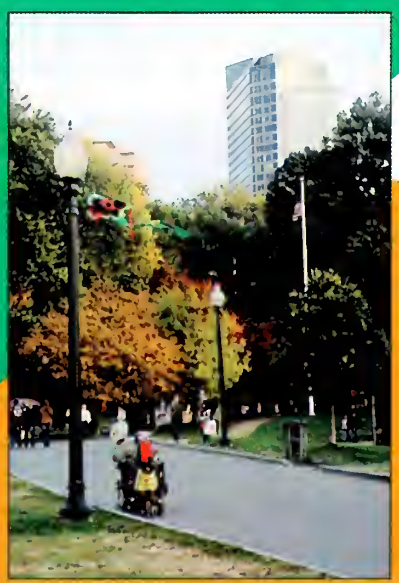
(Left) Taylor Jenkins decided to be an RA her last year of college because she likes helping freshmen enjoy their first year at Emerson.

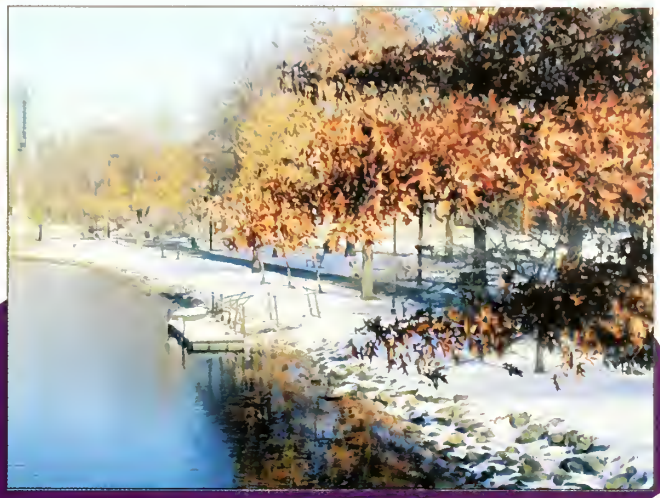
Campus Life

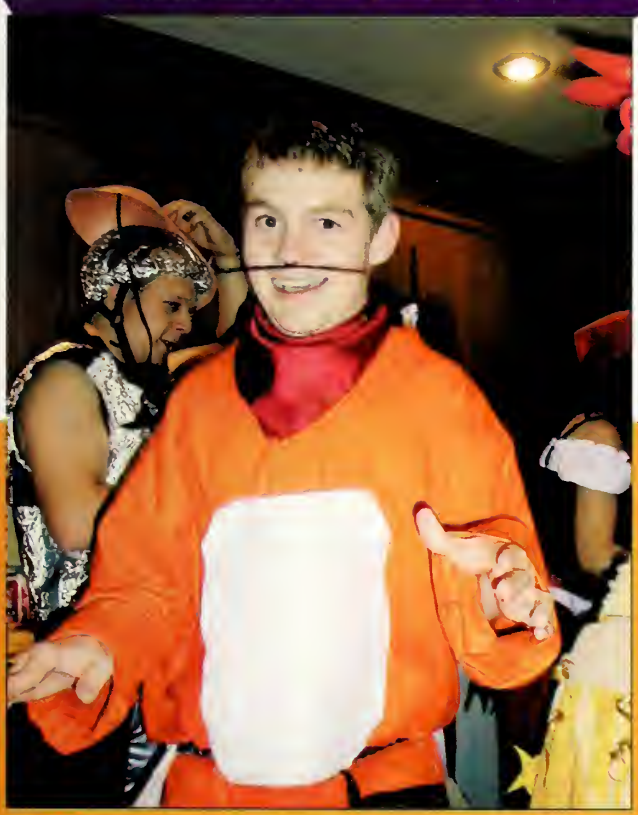
Emerson College does not really have what other schools would call a "campus" but we do have the entire city of Boston as our backyard. From the Public Garden to the Boston Common to Chinatown to Fenway to the North End, Emerson students don't need a campus -- they have the real world!

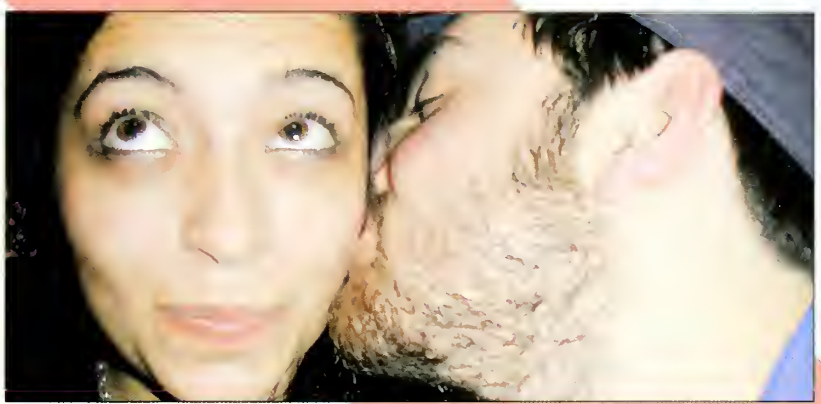












Boston,
Massachusetts

Living in Boston is definitely not boring. As you can see, Emerson students know how to bring the city to life. No matter if it's fall, winter, spring, or summer -- there are always fun things to do around the city. Through Boston's great transportation system - the MBTA, students can go from Tremont and Boylston to Harvard Square. There is always excitement in Boston, Massachusetts.

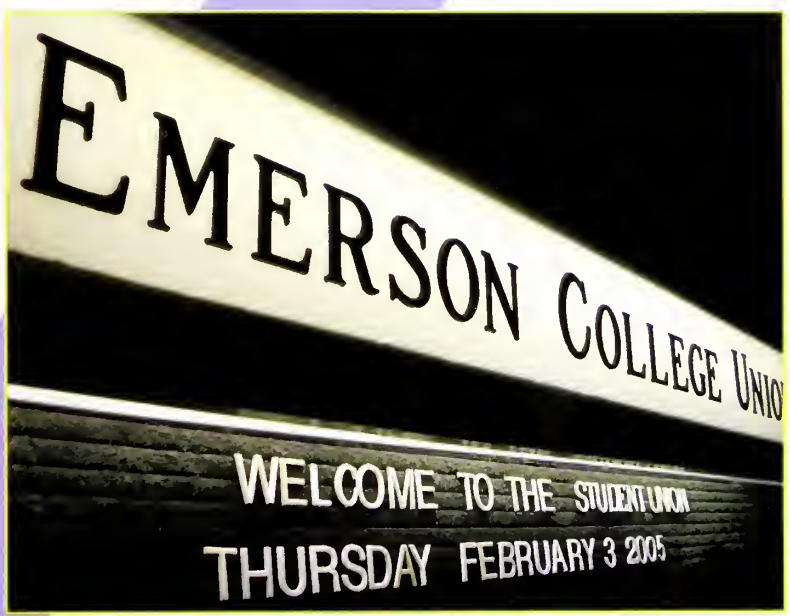
EMERSON COLLEGE
EMERSON COLLEGE

Cultural Center

The Cultural Center was established in 1970 to enhance the educational, cultural and social needs of the campus community. With its entrance on the Berkeley Street side of 132-34 Beacon Street, the facility hosts a variety of formal and informal events for students, faculty and staff, and serves as the headquarters for the College's multicultural resources. The office of the Director of Multicultural Student Affairs is housed in the Center along with offices for the multicultural student organizations. Jag Ramdas, the new director of Student Multicultural Affairs, was very excited to come to Emerson College this year.

Student Union

The Student Union, located at 96 Beacon Street, is a place where several organizations meet and many events are held. Fliers are posted throughout the hallways and many clubs has their own board to post meetings and information. Students can also find the office of Dean of Students Ron Ludman, Associate Dean of Students Sharon Duffy, and Director of Student Activities Sara Sheckells. The Union is also the home of the offices of Student Life and Housing & Residence Life. The most "unique" elevator on campus can also be found here.



Los Angeles

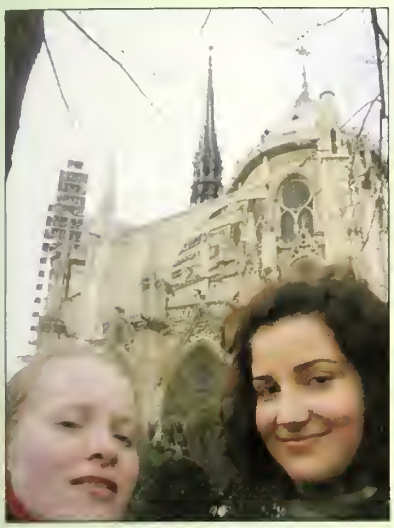
An Emerson Program on the West-Coast

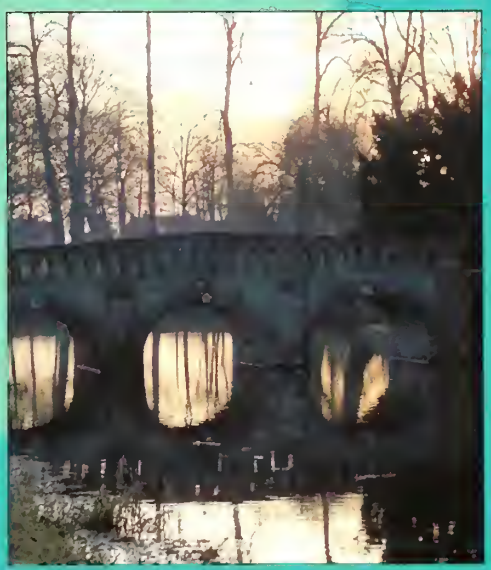
Qualified juniors, seniors and graduate students can enroll for a semester of study at the Emerson College Los Angeles Center. The Los Angeles Center is a residential program with a full semester of internship opportunities and course-work during the fall and spring semesters, as well as a shortened summer session.

Castle Well

Emerson's Study Abroad Program in the Netherlands

A restored 12th-century medieval castle is home to Emerson's Semester Abroad Program in Well, the Netherlands. Moats and lush gardens contribute to the magic of this setting, while courses with a European focus provide the substance of serious academic pursuit. Students who participate in the Emerson College Semester Abroad Program enroll in courses that take advantage of the European experience.





Buildings:

The many beautiful buildings on campus

The buildings of Emerson College have a punch of personality that those of many other colleges do not. Much like the students at Emerson, the buildings are unique and full of personality.

In Loving Memory of Alan Hankin

"We were shocked and deeply saddened to learn that Assistant Professor Alan Hankin, head of Emerson's Science Program, died of an apparent heart attack at the age of 56 . Since coming to Emerson in 1992, Alan had taught Environment and Humankind, Science and Society, Marine Biology, Ecology and Global Environmental Change, and the Sophomore Honors Seminar on Evolution. He also served as advisor to Earth Emerson, an organization formed by students from one of his classes. He received two College awards for outstanding teaching. He was beloved by his students and respected by his colleagues on the faculty and within the administration. His passing was an enormous loss for all of us personally, as well as professionally. We extended our heartfelt condolences to members of his family and his numerous friends and associates."

-Jacqueline Liebergott

Professor Hankin, we will never forget how you influenced us all.

Athletics

Emerson College Football: Still Undefeated!

Men's Soccer

The Emerson Men's Soccer team had an excellent season this year. Jared Scarpaci took over the reins of the Emerson College Men's soccer program in the Fall of 2003 and the improvement in the program was immediate. The Lions ended the 2004 season with a compelling 11-7-1 record and advanced to the semi-finals of the Great Northeast Athletic Conference Tournament.

Women's Soccer

Beginning with the 2004 season Coach Jason Tassinari brought his expertise to Emerson College and it immediately paid off with a Great Northeast Athletic Conference regular season championship. That's right, these Lady Lions are the 2004 Great Northeast Athletic Conference Regular Season Co-Champions. They ended with the best record single season record (13-4-3) and most single season wins in the history of the program.

Volleyball

Coach Chrissy Horan has brought a wealth of volleyball playing and coaching experience to the volleyball program at Emerson College. From her first season at the helm of the Lions in 2002, Coach Horan has displayed a drive for success that has taken the program to new heights.

Cross Country

The women's and men's cross country team is coached by John Furey, who has been coaching for 18 years and this will be his seventh run around for Emerson. Last year, the women's team became the the 2004 Great Northeast Athletic Conference Champions.

Men's Basketball

Emerson College basketball freshman Will Dawkins was named the Great Northeast Athletic Conference Rookie of the Week for the week ending January 16, 2005. Hank Smith took over the Emerson program in 1994, at which time the team had only won 21 games in the previous five years combined. In his inaugural season at the helm, the Lions tallied a record of 17-7 and were voted "The Most Improved Team in New England." At the time of yearbook production, the Emerson men's basketball team defeated Suffolk University 85-54, in the first round of Great Northeast Athletic Conference (GNAC) Tournament play.

Women's Basketball

Emerson finished the regular season with an 11-14 overall record and 4-8 record in the Great Northeast Athletic Conference, which is a dramatic improvement over last season's three-win record. The team featured seven freshmen who expect to return. Coach Melissa Hart said she expects the freshmen to mature during the off-season and she looks forward to working with the returning core players next year rather than starting from scratch.

Women's Tennis

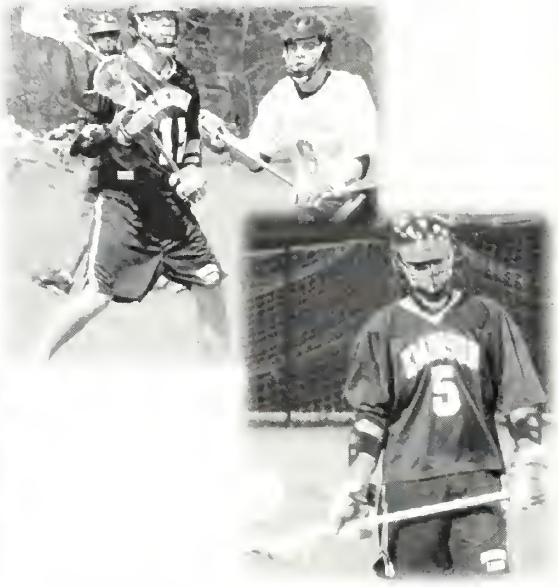
Gary Chaftez took over the Emerson College Women's Tennis program in the Fall of 2003. Despite often struggling to find enough players to field a full team, Coach Chafetz's initial squad posted three victories. Emerson stunned Suffolk to advance in the GNAC Tournament, which was awesome for these Lady Lions.

Men's Tennis

Keith Warner took over the men's tennis program at Emerson College in 1999 bringing with him vast amounts of tennis experience from across the globe. These tennis guys became the 2004 Undefeated (9-0) Men's Tennis Team at the Great Northeast Athletic Conference Regular Season and Tournament Champions.

Men's Lacrosse

The Emerson Men's lacrosse program provides the student-athlete with the opportunity to participate in an exciting and challenging Division III schedule. Lions Lacrosse players find that being a part of the team enriches their college experience, providing them with the skills necessary to be successful on the field, in the classroom, and in life after college.



Women's Lacrosse

MaryEllen Sullivan was recently hired as head coach of the Emerson College Women's Lacrosse team. Team players and administrators are hopeful that this one will have the staying power to build up the lacrosse program. At this point in yearbook production, the season has not even started yet - but we're sure these Lacrosse Lions will do great!

Softball

Phil McElroy took over as Emerson's head coach begining with the 2002 season after three years experience as the Lion's assistant coach. During those years he helped lead the team to records of 30-10 in 1999, 26-7 in 2000, 22-13 in 2001, tournament play each year, and 2nd place in the 2001 Great Notheast Athletic Conference Championships.

Baseball

The baseball program at Emerson College competes at the "club sport" level. While not a declared NCAA Division III sport, the Department of Athletics supports the club through financial means, and through the hiring of a coach. The program will compete in the traditional Spring season, and is also expected to compete in the club level New England Collegiate Baseball League in the fall. Between the two seasons the team will play 25-30 games.

Outdoor Activities

Those Emerson students not involved with the athletic teams still love to go outside. Whether it be having a snowball fight, jogging along the Charles River, or taking a walk through the Public Garden, outdoor activities are always going on in Boston.

Emerson Review

The Emerson Review is an award-winning literary magazine dedicated to the publication of short stories, poetry, feature articles, book & film reviews, comics, and black and white photography by students, guest alumni, and faculty members. Founded in the spring of 1970, it holds a tradition of quality work and free expression of ideas. All Emerson College students and alumni are welcome to submit to the Emerson Review.

Gauge

Gauge is a student run, design-oriented magazine completely produced by and for Emerson College students. Its goal is to incorporate the various fields of study offered at Emerson into a singular publication, and to push the boundaries of the magazine format.

Laügh

Laugh is comedy publication specializing in long-form humor essays and workshops for comedy writers. Open auditions for writers, artists, photographers, and layout are held annually.

Warlords

Through teamwork, determination, and the exploration of current technologies, members of Warlords create films/digital videos in the genre of ACTION and all sub-action genres and crossovers.

PRSSA

The Public Relations Students Society of America provides support for students interested in public relations through scholarships, networking with practitioners throughout the country and education.

CPLA

The Communications, Politics and Law Association works to awaken students' interest in the political process. We collaborate with a wide range of Emerson students and organizations to ensure that all voices on campus are heard.

NSSLHA

The National Student Speech, Language and Hearing Association encourages professional interests among Emerson students in the study of normal and disordered human communication behavior.

Stork Magazine

Stork is an annual fiction journal published by students in the Writing, Literature, and Publishing department at Emerson College. Stork is founded on the idea of communication between editor and writers, not a simple letter of rejection or acceptance.

Frames Per Second

Named Organization of the Year 2003-2004, Frames Per Second is a student run organization dedicated entirely to teaching professional film production.

MTS

The Musical Theatre Society fosters and promotes an appreciation of musical theatre and gives students opportunities to participate in an annual spring musical and other productions.

Alpha Epsilon Phi

A national social sorority, originally founded in 1909, AEPhi is dedicated to helping women become the best they can be. The sorority prizes individuality as much as they prize togetherness, fostering friendships and a sense of belonging that last a lifetime. By becoming a part of AEPhi, you're connected to sisters from the Atlantic to the Pacific in the many chapters that span the nation, in addition to the sisters you'll have at Emerson. One of a kind, all together – that's AEPhi!

Kidding Around

Kidding Around (formerly Team Players) is Emerson's theatre group that performs and provides unique theatre experiences exclusively for children. It performs on campus and at local schools and after school programs where it creates an "interactive" theatre environment with children of all ages. Emerson students are encouraged to become directors, designers, producers, actors, writers and media persons.

Kappa Gamma Chi

A professional sorority founded at Emerson in 1902, Kappa is committed to serving the College and local community. The sisterhood fosters the ideal of nurturing professional, strong and independent women. The sisters expect and demand the highest and best standards for every active member. Named Organization of the Year for 1999-2000, Kappa feels this responsibility has been important in making the society count as a valuable asset to the College.

EVVYS

The 24th Annual EVVY Awards is the largest student-produced award show in the country. The show is an eight-camera live-switch production modeled after the Oscars and the Emmy Awards. The show was created by former Emerson Independent Video students Glenn Meehan and Martie Cook to give students the opportunity to have their work judged and honored by industry professionals. Originally created to recognize student achievement in television and video, the show has evolved to include nearly every area of study offered at Emerson College. Founded in 1981, The EVVY Awards was held at various locations in the Boston area before finding a permanent home at the Emerson Majestic Theatre, now the Cutler-Majestic Theatre, in 1990.

Newman Club

The Newman Club provides opportunities for Catholic students to enjoy each other, to develop their faith and to work on-campus in sponsoring prayerful, social, educational and service oriented activities.

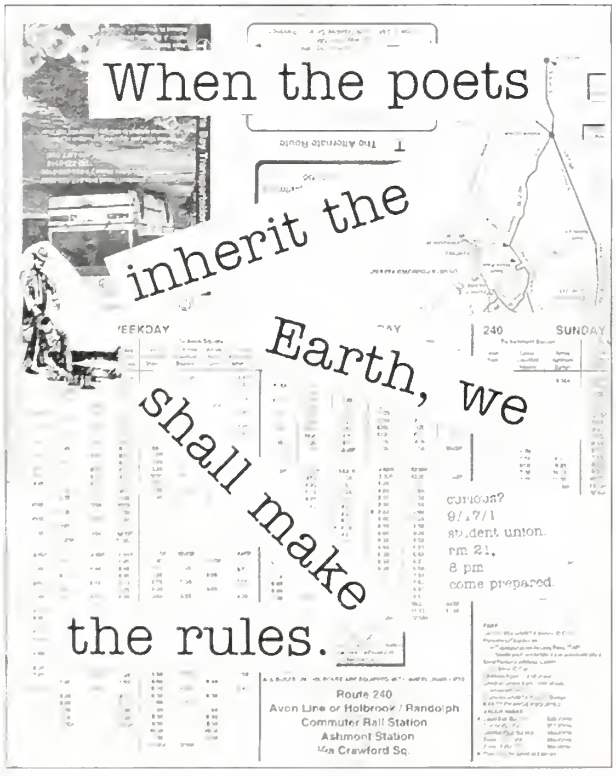
Zeta Phi Eta

Established at Emerson in 1908, this national professional co-ed fraternity is dedicated to the communication arts and sciences. Founded at Northwestern University in 1893, Zeta Phi Eta is the oldest national group of its kind. Since that time, Zeta has bonded together individuals committed to high standards in the communication arts and sciences, while providing opportunities for sharing professional interests through worthwhile activities. The sisters and brothers of Zeta Phi Eta are strongly involved with the campus community, in addition to working with many outside organizations, such as the AIDS Action Committee and the American Cancer Society. In 1995, Zeta received national recognition through the Campus Chapter Achievement Award.

Noteworthy

The purpose of this organization, created in the fall of 2002, is to promote creativity, education of music and diversity with regards to the A Cappella Scene at Emerson and in the Boston Community. The group provides all A Cappella entertainment for a variety of on and off campus events.

Gangsters in Concrete



Gangsters in Concrete is a bi-annual student publication that publishes experimental prose, poetry, creative nonfiction and photography produced by undergraduates.

SPEC

SPEC was founded to develop a forum for students interested in the art of screenwriting; to provide a means for students to explore artistic abilities; and to promote and nurture the interests of those who wish to pursue an education in the field of screenwriting. SPEC serves the video and filmmaking community by conducting workshops and by hosting annual performance-style readings.

Shakespeare Society

The mission of Emerson College's Shakespeare Society is to promote the knowledge of and interest in Shakespeare, and related works. We work in the community through educational programming, workshops, and public performance. We have a process over product ideal for our productions and want to make the work we do enjoyable and educational for all involved.

EmComm

EMCOMM (Emerson Marketing Communication) offers a training ground for future marketing communication professionals. This agency provides students with practical experience in advertising, public relations, promotions and graphic design.

Sigma Pi Theta

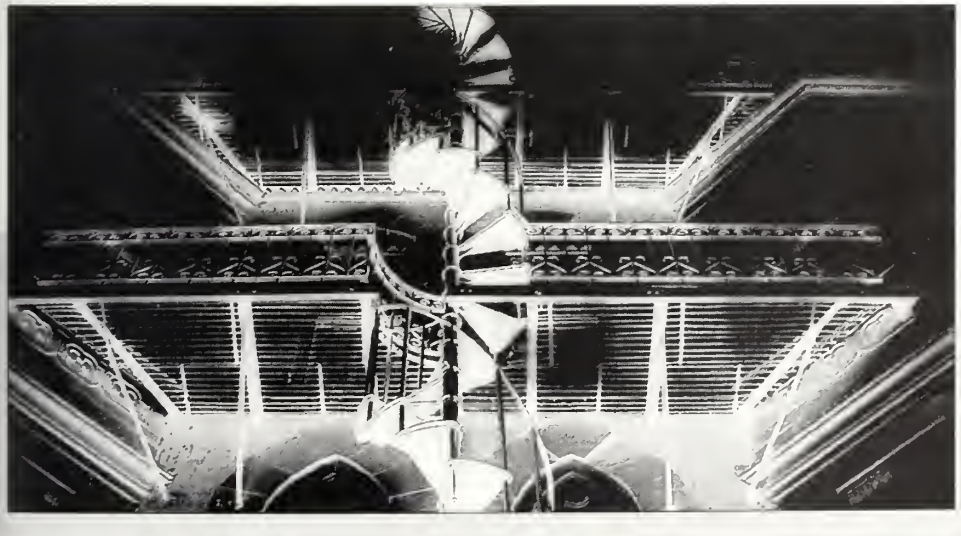
A local, social sorority that is committed to sisterhood, trust and love. The sorority emerged at Emerson College in 1979 as a support group for women. They are dedicated to stimulating unity, growth, support and awareness among the women of Emerson College. Sigma encourages the growth of the individual, the sorority and the Emerson community through community service events.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

SAE was colonized as a local chapter Phi Alpha on April 22, 1999 after a 13-year formation period. Sigma Alpha Epsilon brings a 143-year tradition of serving its member schools and communities through various social and charitable endeavors.

Developed Images

Developed Images is Emerson's only professional black and white photography magazine that showcases the talents of students. In the fall Developed Images also publishes a color book. Developed Images is published annually and will accept submissions from anyone in the Emerson community.



Rareworks

Named organization of the year for 2004-2005, the mission of this organization is to support theatrical productions fully produced, directed, managed and otherwise staged solely by students of Emerson College.

SGA Executive Officers

Emily Garr
President

Katie Caponera
Vice President

Anna Basile
Secretary

The Student Government is a body that meets weekly to discuss and vote on a variety of issues relevant to the lives and educations of each and every Emerson student. They are also responsible for monitoring and recognizing organizations and providing them with annual finances. There are a variety of members whose duty is to represent your opinions on issues of education, finance, safety, extracurricular activities, and the school as a whole. These include class officials, departmental senators, and commissioners. The SGA will make your voice heard and help you actively stay involved in your college experience.

AMIGOS

Amigos is Emerson's Latino student organization is dedicated to creating awareness of the Latino community at Emerson , to share the differences within the Latin cultures, and to serve the Latino community in the greater Boston area. AMIGOS is a multicultural group which welcomes everyone, Spanish-speaking or not, who would like to learn about its many cultures. AMIGOS sponsors social, political and cultural events.

Earth Emerson

Earth Emerson works to promote environmental awareness and stewardship and to better the campus, community and global environments through student action. Annual activities include cause fundraisers, benefit concerts, recycling, hiking, community clean-ups and campus greening projects.

Emerson Independent Video

The student-run Emerson Independent Video organization serves the College community and gives students hands-on experience in all phases of television production in a professional environment. EIV produces a number of television shows including the College's annual EVVY Awards, Emerson's equivalent to the EMMY Awards.

The Emersonian

The Emersonian yearbook, is a permanent chronicle of the days, people, places and events of the academic year.

Sesame Street Comes to Emerson!

The Emerson College Office of Student Activities, in collaboration with the Diversity Week Planning Committee hosted 3 original cast members of Sesame Street on our campus!

On Wednesday, April 6, 2005 Dr. Loretta Long, Sonia Manzano and Roscoe Orman ("Susan," "Maria" and "Gordon") met with members of the Emerson community to present a program entitled, "Multiculturalism in American Theatre, Film and Television." The event was held in the Washington Ballroom of the Courtyard by Marriott Boston Tremont Hotel.

Dr. Loretta Long, Sonia Manzano, Roscoe Orman.

We were thrilled and honored that these talented performers came to speak at Emerson College. Actors, authors, educators and activists alike our three panelists brought with them a broad range of professional experiences which proved incredibly relevant to our community.

Scenes from an Emerson Orientation 2004-2005

Upon entering Emerson College, new students often feel excited, nervous, and uncertain about their new environment. With the help of a friendly orientation staff, the new students are welcomed to their college with open arms. Several orientation activities are planned such as the popular Boat Cruise which is basically a dance party on the Boston Harbor. This year's orientation theme was, "Scenes From an Emerson Orientation" and it was a blast!

(Right) This year's orientation staff was successful in being helpful to new students. They were also great at being fun and loud!

(Below) These hard-working Orientation Advisors know how to plan a great time!

Family Weekend

Welcome to Family Weekend 2004, your "golden ticket" to imagination and adventure! During this weekend, family members of Emerson students had the opportunity to meet with Emerson administrators, faculty, and other students. No matter if their student was a writing, literature, publishing major or a musical theatre major, family members learned a lot this weekend, and had a lot planned out for them! The weekend events included campus tours, the first annual EVVY Winter Festival, a dessert reception, an Emerson Talent Showcase, and much more.

Dragtoberfest

When men become amazing women, and women become cunning gentlemen - the best transformation deserves nothing less than a tiara. The 2004 Miss Emerson, Giselle (Kyree Miller,) showed she can always shake it in four inch heels. Dragtoberfest is put on by the Emerson Alliance for Gays, Lesbians and Everyone. They make Emerson dreams come true!

(Above) Kyree Miller moves his heels to receive his golden tiara and flowers. Not even that mini could stop him from showing off some booty-poppin' moves.

(Right) Judges Emily Garr, Sharon Duffy, and Chris Serwaki had to make a tough choice. All contestants surprised them a little and made them smile.

Equity Fights AIDS Week

Equity Fights AIDS Week had a very sucessful fourth year at Emerson, raising more than $5,000.00 for Broadway Cares Equity Fights AIDS. This year's EFA week was kicked off on November 7th with the Concert Gala, followed by a Speaker's Forum, Movie Night, Comedy Night, Open Mic Night, One-Act Night, and the Date Auction closed out the week on the 13th. All of the proceeds from the events and tee-shirt sales goes directly to BCEFA.

Winter Celebration

Sponsored by Student Activities and Student Life, students came to the Union to build a stuffed animal, learn how to knit, decorate cookies, make holiday cards, learn about holiday celebrations from around the world, eat goodies, drink cider and hot chocolate, and more!

Casino Night

Everyone's Favorite Free-for-the-Weekend Event

Free-for-the-Weekend is a time when Emerson students pledge to be substance free for the weekend and participate in extremely fun events such as: Casino Night! This night, sponsored by the SGA, takes place in the Tremont House Hotel and is filled with games like Craps, Blackjack, Poker, and Roulette -- all played to earn raffle tickets for awesome prizes! Casino Night is truly an Emerson College favorite.

Hand Me Down Night!

Hand Me Down Night is an annual event during which outgoing club officers hand down the reigns of power to the new incoming officers. Everyone put your Sunday best on and get ready to dance, cause this is a party!

24th Evvy Awards

The 24th Annual EVVY Awards is the largest student-produced award show in the country. The show is an eight-camera live-switch production modeled after the Oscars and the Emmy Awards. The show was created by former Emerson Independent Video students Glenn Meehan and Martie Cook to give students the opportunity to have their work judged and honored by industry professionals. Originally created to recognize student achievement in television and video, the show has evolved to include nearly every area of study offered at Emerson College. Founded in 1981, The EVVY Awards was held at various locations in the Boston area before finding a permanent home at the Emerson Majestic Theatre, now the Cutler-Majestic Theatre, in 1990.

This year, The EVVY Awards will award student work in over forty-five categories, including television and video, film, writing, journalism, marketing, photography, audio, new media, and performance. The EVVY Awards prides itself on recruiting top professionals from the communication, visual, and performing arts fields to judge student work. Last year's judges included professionals from Saturday Night Live, Late Night with Conan O'Brien, The Daily Show with Jon Stewart, The Late Show with David Letterman, Banana Republic, MTV, VH1, Sirius Radio, CNBC, and Soap Opera Digest.

The EVVY Awards also honors Emerson College graduates with the EVVY Award of Distinction. This award is given for outstanding lifetime achievement in the fields of communication, visual, and performing arts. Past award recipients include John Wentworth of Paramount and Doug Herzog of the USA Network, Denis Leary, Henry Winkler, and Kevin Bright, Executive Producer of Friends. The EVVY Awards also includes roll-ins, congratulatory messages from celebrities and industry professionals to the winners and nominees, in the annual show. Recent roll-ins include

Leslie Moonves, James L. Brooks, Oliver Stone, and the casts of Law & Order, The West Wing, and Friends.

In addition to holding an annual awards show, The EVVY Awards sponsors many events throughout the year, designed to inform and educate the Emerson community. These events host professionals from the outside community in the various majors Emerson offers. Past events have included News Night, High Definition Showcase, Entertainment Marketing Night, and New Media Night.

The EVVY Awards has also sponsored a student-produced Women's Documentary, which has helped students understand the advantages and hardships women face in the entertainment industry. Members of The EVVY Awards also participate in community outreach activities throughout the Boston area, including the Making Strides Against Breast Cancer walk, Cradles to Crayons, and Community Servings.

This year's show will take place at the Cutler-Majestic Theatre on Tremont Street in Boston on Saturday, May 14, 2005. The show is also webcast live on the internet on this website. For the past twenty-four years, The EVVY Awards has provided students with the opportunity to obtain skills and hands-on experience necessary to succeed in the professional world. The 24th Annual EVVY Awards is made possible through the hard work and dedication of nearly 100 students.

Michele N. Fortier

Class of 2005

Michele N. Fortier, part of the 2005 graduating class, was an Emerson student studying at the Castle. She died in an automobile accident in Well, Holland in September 2002. Michele was majoring in theatre studies, and had gone to the Castle to study European drama and music.

Michele was an active member of Emerson College, participating in numerous activities while she was a student here. She was part of the New Pathways program, and worked with two of our student organizations, Women in Motion and Developed Images. One of Michele's teachers, Assistant VMA Assistant Professor Katrien Jacobs, remembers her as, "...a very creative student who really cared about the other students in the class" and had, "...worked on a really amazing feminist project with a group of other students."

Victoria Snelgrove

Class of 2006

Victoria Snelgrove aspired to be a broadcast journalist since childhood. Her dream was to become an entertainment reporter when she graduated from Emerson College, said friends and family members. Snelgrove, a resident of East Bridgewater, was celebrating the Boston Red Sox's win in Game Seven of the American League Championship Series when riot police began shooting "non-lethal" bean-bag bullets into the crowd. Snelgrove died at 12:50 p.m. October 21st 2004, according to Associated Press reports. Her death immediately triggered grief throughout the Emerson community, especially those close to her at WEBN news. Snelgrove's advisor, Janet Kolodzy, fellow WEBN broadcasters and her best friend Danielle Kotzias, also a broadcast journalism major, held a press conference to remember her. - Berkeley Beacon Staff

So many memories,
So little space,
Just want you to always remember,
How much we love you, and how very, very proud we are of you,
Not just today,
but always-
We will forever be right here for you;
No matter where you are-
or where we may be.
Our Lovely, Beautiful daughter-
Take hold of all your dreams;
You can have it all!

Closing and Thanks

Frame by frame, this book has come to an end. The 2004-2005 Emersonian is a success! A BIG thank you goes out to Nick Bonadies (thank you for working on everything this summer while I was home, and for all the countless times you have saved this book!), Meridith Moran (fall semester, you lit up my life), Stacy Hunsberger (without you, we wouldn't have any treasury skills at all!), Jennifer Shugert (you are a wonderful photographer!), and Jessica Wang (thank you for sorting out all of the photos and sticking with me for a billion hours working on the senior mugs). Without these wonderful people, this book wouldn't have been made! I enloyed working with all of you! To Kristen Belcher: Thank you for your support and help throughout the year - whether it be about the cover of the book or important Senior-Week information, without you, this book wouldn't be what it is. My sincere thanks to the parents of the graduating seniors for taking the time to be a part of the senior ads by sending in those wonderful baby pictures! Of course, my thanks goes out to Sara Sheckells, our advisor, for everything she does! Thank you to Finepoint Photographics for the senior portraits and countless events they shot -- it was a pleasure having you around. Last but surely not least, I'd like to thank John Carrier, our Herff Jones Publishing representative.

This is my first year as editor-in-chief of the Emersonian, and I have enjoyed the experience (although it was a bit stressful at times!). I have learned a lot from all of you. I look forward to working with everyone next year! To the class of 2005 -- Congratulations and Good Luck!
